

Accessing Support: Private/self-funded psychological therapy

If you have private health insurance cover or wish to pay directly for a consultation with a mental health professional, you may want to review the following information to identify the service that you feel best fits your needs.

There are also charities and non-profit services who offer private therapy, which can be low-cost but will be dependent on the area in which you live. You may wish to search for these yourself, or you can request from the psychological support team to be provided a document containing potential Low-Cost Therapy services that could be helpful to you.

Below is a list of organisations who may be able to offer you some support, as well as some resources that you may find helpful to read/listen to. The range and quality of services/support available from such organisations may vary. This list has been gathered as signposting only, and The Royal Marsden cannot guarantee the accuracy of the information provided by an organisation listed or the quality of their services.
